Thank you for working on the fluency pages with the kids last week. I am so proud of how far they have come already.

Our weekly words this week are short “e” words. We will also discuss how the silent “e” makes the vowel say its name and how adding “ed” to a word makes it past tense.

In reading and writing our focus is the beginning, middle and end of a story.

In math, the students are focusing on representing place values and recognizing numerals by their names.

In socials studies we will be learning about community members and their jobs in the community.

I am excited to announce that in addition to regular drama classes, the first grade students will be participating in a drama course presented by instructors from Hawaii Theater for Youth. Our scheduled time for this is Sept. 25-Oct 6th from 11:30-12:30.

Special notes!
